C. H. TOLL ON BONDS

STRAW BALLOTS AND QUARTER MILLION DOLLAR BOND SHOULD NOT BE MIXED

My attention has been called to the confused condition of a call for a quarter million of dollars school bond issue to come before the voters of the Glendale Union High School District next Monday.

My business experience has taught me that bond issues for large sums of the people's money should not be dependent in any way upon the results of straw ballot elections, which can have no legal recognition in the eyes of the law.

As a voter extremely interested in the welfare of the Glendale Schools, I stand ready to support a reasonable bond issue for necessary additions for present needs only, and will vote no on the question as presented at next Monday's election.

The appropriation of the public's money requires the same careful consideration as does the appropriation of our own money.

BICYCLE ROAD RACE

RIDERS OF "THE SILENT STEED" TO COMPETE FOR SPEED HONORS

The bicycle road race arranged for the boy riders of Glendale is to start at 2:30 sharp this afternoon. There are 12 prizes, ranging in value from $16 down to $1 and of course every boy hopes to land the big one. The course is about six miles in length, on Pacific avenue, Sixth street, Grand View avenue and Kenneth Road. The entrants up to 10 o'clock today were Wm. Teasley, Harry Hardin, Theo. Kober, Merionoeth Osborn, John Copeland, Geo. Jordan, Carlton Lawson, Edwin Johnson, Eugene Drury, Geo. Noyes, Geo. Willis Bennett, Donald Stone, Robt. M. Searle, Leslie Tronsier and Carl Bugge.

While this race will not be as exciting to spectators as an auto race it will mean just as much to the boy contestants and boy onlookers. This is a clean kind of sport for them and is good for their physical development. We feel quite sure that there will be none of the disgraceful gambling features that so often mar racing events controlled by big folk. It is hoped that the families of some or all of the contestants will turn out to cheer the youngsters in their efforts.

SCHOOL BONDS AND SITE

H. M. BUTTS DISCUSSES HIGH SCHOOL BOND ELECTION

It had not been my intention to have anything to say in a personal sense with regard to the school bond and site election, which is to take place Monday, May 10th, but as I understand there is a question in the minds of many as to certain points that either have not been mentioned or else have not been made sufficiently clear, I will state my views on the subject.

There seem to be two outstanding questions. One is: What about an auditorium—the item given such great prominence before the previous election and about which nothing is said today. The other is: What is to be done with the present school plant if we plan a change of site?

As to the auditorium, the trustees are quoted as saying that for the present the "assembly" can be dispensed with.

The idea has also been advanced, that, weather permitting, the "assembly" can be held out of doors. In other words, along the lines of the Greek theater.

This is done in other schools and why should it not be done here?

It is claimed that our High School cost us last year $94,000 against $102,000 for the seven graded schools. And notwithstanding this immense outlay it is undoubtedly true that many of the teachers are underpaid. Is there not a lack of good business ability strongly in evidence somewhere?

Coming back to the auditorium It is also possible and, I believe, entirely practical and not too expensive, to build a hall large enough to hold 1000 pupils, along the same lines as the bungalow class rooms and, in fact, so arranged as to be used, at least in part, for class

MEMBERS OF BOARD EXPLAIN WHY CALL WAS MADE IN PRESENT FORM

To the Voters of Glendale Union High School District:

As members of the High School Board we desire to present to you briefly our views regarding the matters to be submitted to you at the election on Monday, May 10th. There are two questions to be voted on: first, whether bonds in the sum of $250,000 shall be issued; and second, whether the present site shall be retained as the permanent site of the High School. These are both matters of great importance to the district, and we have submitted them together in order to have as speedy a decision as possible, and in an effort to be entirely fair to all sides of the controversy regarding the site. Now, however, we find ourselves accused of trying to "shove a site down the throats of the people." We think any one who takes the trouble to think the matter over will readily perceive that if such had been our intention we would not have begun by submitting the site question to a popular vote.

There can be no question in the mind of any one who will investigate the situation that the High School badly needs increased accommodations for its students. Apparently no one disputes this fact, though some seem unable to accept any plan for remedying the situation, unless proposed by themselves. The last additions to the High School plant (except the temporary gymnasium) were completed in January, 1915. Since that time the average attendance has increased 80 per cent. During the last two years, although practically no new houses were built, the increase was ten per cent per year. For the last several months, however, building has been going on very rapidly, and the houses are occupied as fast as built. This increase in population will, of course, bring a corresponding increase in the number of High School pupils. We would not be at all surprised to see next year's attendance show an increase of 25 per cent over that of the present year. In one of our past years the increase was 30 per cent. The high school is now full and even over crowded. Many classes are meeting in places not designed for that purpose. We have had to close some of the science classes and exclude students who desired to enter them because there was no room for such students.

In order to get increased accommodations ready for next fall it is necessary to vote the bonds now. If another election is called it cannot be held before the middle of June at the earliest, and the money for the bonds could not be obtained for at least a month later.

If the bonds are voted and the majority is in favor of retaining the present site it is our intention, as already declared, to buy the block of land just east of it, for the purpose of ultimately locating the athletic grounds and gymnasium there. This land and the buildings on it have been appraised for us by Mr. M. P. Harrison and Mr. Roy Kent at the sum of $114,328.00 which includes the full present cost of reproducing the buildings. We would have to pay only the present value of the buildings, which the same gentlemen say would reduce the amount by about 15 per cent. The buildings would bring a considerable sum when sold, and this would reduce the net cost of the land to not more than $90,000. On this block there are several buildings which could at no great cost be remodeled and converted into temporary classrooms so as to take care

MEETING TO CONSIDER MONTEREY ROAD EXTENSION

The meeting last evening at the Doran Street schoolhouse to consider the opening of Monterey Road as a through boulevard from Verdugo Road to Burbank, was well attended. Dr. Jessie Russell called the meeting to order and G. B. Woodberry was chosen for chairman, with Dr. Russell as secretary. The matter was thoroughly discussed and sentiment favoring the improvement seemed unanimous. The chairman was directed by motions to appoint two committees, one to see parties along the proposed route of the extension from Glendale Ave. to Brand Blvd. as to whether or no they would dedicate the necessary ground for the roadway and the other to investigate as to the most desirable route to take between Louise and Brand, whether directly west on a line with Burchett street or following the windings of the Wash. These committees the chairman will announce later.

The book review at the Glendale Branch Library at Brand and Los Feliz Road Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock was the most largely attended of any review that Mrs. Danford, City Librarian, has yet given. The preliminary part of her talk concerned a number of inspirational books and she then specialized on Hugh Walpole's "Jeremy."

FALL OF MEXICO CITY

UNCONFIRMED REPORTS OF ITS SURRENDER TO GEN. HILL CREDITED AT EL PASO

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

EL PASO, May 8.—An unconfirmed report reaching rebel headquarters at Juarez from Chihuahua City, today stated that General Benjamin Hill had captured Mexico City and that Carranza had fled. Accepting the report at full value the citizens and rebel garrison of Juarez launched a celebration of the fall of Mexico City. The report from Chihuahua City, according to a later version given out at Juarez headquarters, stated that General Hill, leading the Obregonista rebels in conjunction with those under General Gonzales received the surrender of the Carranzista troops in the Mexican national capital this morning.

The report is credited by American authorities here. The Carranza administration is fast toppling. According to the reports reaching the rebel headquarters in Juarez, the important cities of Saltillo, Zecatecas, Agua Calientes, Torreon and Oaxaca are said to have fallen into rebel hands with Generals Dieguez, Cesario, Castro and Austin Castro joining the revolution. These generals were counted as among the most loyal and efficient of Carranza's military men and each has a large personal following. The defection of Dieguez is perhaps the most serious personal blow to Carranza since the beginning of the Sonora revolution, Dieguez having been assigned by Carranza to the task of leading the campaign against Sonora and Chihuahua. Other mines and towns in northern Coahuila are declared to be under the control of the revolutionists today.

According to an earlier report received here, the Chamber of Deputies of the federal district (Mexico City) has declared for the revolution. Carranza and his ministers are reported as trying to effect an armistice with the rebels who suspect the move is intended to gain time for Carranza to escape from Mexico City.

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION OUTLOOK

SITUATION DECLARED TO BE COMPLICATED BY REACTION IN FAVOR OF KNOX'S CANDIDACY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, May 8.—The republican presidential situation, already complicated, has been rendered even more difficult of solution by the growth of a favorable reaction for the candidacy of Philander C. Knox, it was apparent todaq. Even Senator Penrose, who indorsed his colleague for the Republican nomination is understood to have been amazed at the quick response of sentiment to Knox in both branches of the party. Senator Johnson has repeatedly given assurance that in the event of his defeat at Chicago, he will not be a party to a bolt. The possibility has thus arisen that two men who may not get a handful of votes on the first ballot will stand as good a chance for the nomination as any of the present big four—Senator Johnson, General Wood, Governor Lowden and Senator Harding. These two are Knox and Herbert Hoover.

With all but six of the states having chosen their republican delegates, it becomes more apparent that no candidate can hope to win on the first ballot. Instructed delegates at present are apportioned as follows: Wood 136, Johnson 106, Lowden 73, Harding 39, Poindexter 14. Conceding claims to uninstructed delegates, the standing would be: Wood 243, Johnson 150, Lowden 145, Murray Butler 88, Harding 40, Coolidge 29.

PRESIDENT TO STAND ALOOF

WASHINGTON, May 8.—President Wilson has decided to stand aloof from the allied settlement with Turksy, according to information obtained today from usually well-informed sources. This, it was intimated, is in line with the president's determination to refrain from further participation in international politics until the treaty of Versailles has been finally disposed of.

REQUEST IGNORED

CALL FOR BOND ISSUE FIXED AT $250,000 INSTEAD OF $60,000

At a committee meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Glendale Union High School held in the office of the High School, Friday, April 2, 1920, a recommendation was made by the citizens present as given in the account of the meeting published in the Evening News of April 3d, as follows:

"At the request of the Board of Trustees of the Glendale Union High School, Judge F. H. Lowe invited about twenty citizens to meet with the Board at the High School Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock to consider the most feasible way of providing the much needed room for pupils at the High School. There were present at this time members of the Board—Hartley Shaw, Daniel Campbell, Mrs. Gardiner and C. O. Pulliam, Dr. A. L. Bryant being absent. The visiting citizens who accepted the invitation were F. H. Lowe, G. B. Woodberry, E. K. Barnes, A. T. Cowan, J. E. Peters, Chas. L. Chandler, A. G. Lindley, Hal Davenport and J. C. Sherer. After considerable discussion the visiting citizens recommended that the Board of Trustees be advised to call a bond election at once for an amount (probably $30,000 to $60,000) for the purpose of providing a sufficient number of bungalow class rooms to answer the present needs of the school, the same to be completed by the opening of school next September. The suggestion as above mentioned excluded any other question as to change of site or future additional bond issues being considered at this election."

The men whose names appear above were not a self-appointed committee, with a selfish desire to carry out their own views on the question of providing more room for the boys and girls of the High School, but they were present to represent the views of hundreds of the taxpayers of the school district.

The message to the Board of Trustees by the committee was speed up the call for a bond election for an amount not to exceed $60,000, and keep the election disconnected from selection of site, as the site question is a matter of education on the part of the people,—give the people time to consider such an important question,—but in the meantime provide adequate accommodations for the boys and girls.

It is good business to vote down the quarter million dollar call next Monday and then ask the Board of Trustees to submit to the people a call for not to exceed $60,000 without any reference to site.

G. U. H. S. ORATORICAL

JACK JENKINS WINS ON ORATION; BOOTH PENNANT GOES TO MAYFLOWER OF JUNIORS

Another glad night has come and gone, another victory has been won, the Oratorical is a thing of the past. Seven hundred young voices are recuperating from a program of yells with which the champions were spurred to endeavor.

As usual it was a picturesque interclass contest which developed considerable ingenuity and artistic skill. As usual the whole program was related to the themes of the champions. Seniors, who occupied with their booth and class the center of the auditorium were represented by Jack Jenkins with an oration on Herbert Clark Hoover; the Sophomores, for whom was reserved a space at the rear of the auditorium, were represented by Paul Hutcainson, who had the same theme, "Herbert Hoover." On the right-hand side were the juniors, whose orator was Francis Read, with "The Red Peril" (Bolshevism), while against the opposite wall was ranged the big class of the Freshmen whose champion was Miss Emily Earl with the subject, "Theodore Roosevelt."

The booth of the Seniors whose colors are green and white, was an impressive representation of the capitol building at Washington composed of white roses and carnations in a setting of green lawn and trees. It was placarded "The Future of Herbert Hoover." At the rear where the yellow and black colors of the Sophomores dominated, the scene was an even more impressive representation in white carnations of The White House at Washington, similarly placarded. This, too, had its green lawn setting and its electroliers. Against the right-hand wall where the red and green colors indicated the space reserved for Juniors was a lovely representation of the Mayflower in red and white carnations with a base of asparagus fern. Its swelling sails and general ensemble made a beautiful spectacle that caught and held the eye. A placard upon the wall beside it in red and gilt announced: "The Spirit of the Mayflower, Liberty Under Law, Our Shield Against the Red Peril."

On the opposite side, where purple and orange colors advertised the reservation for the Freshmen, was a very good representation of Glendale Union High School in white carnations in combination with violets and yellow daisies.

First in the class parades came the Seniors singing "Mighty Class of 1920, Hoover Stands for Us." The procession endeavored to epitomize the life of Hoover. First came a group dressed as college students in cap and gown with a placard about Hoover, the University man. Another group was dressed as engineers and bore an appropriate placard, another group represented in picturesque garb Belgians who had been saved from starvation by Hoover. Last in line was Abraham Lincoln accompanying the supposed Hoover, followed by a huge Uncle Sam announcing that he was for Hoover. Along similar lines was the parade of the Sophomores, though they carried no placards and did not bring it to so ambitious a close. It was led by its yell leaders in caps of the class colors, black and gold.

The Freshmen undertook the humble role of hard workers who hoped some day by patient effort to attain to the proud distinction of being Sophomores. The girls were dressed in pink and blue gingham slips with pink and blue paper hair bows and the boys in overalls and old clothes. Their excellent entrance song explained their humble aspirations.

Last came the Juniors dressed as Puritans, all in black and white, the girls in caps and kerchiefs carrying prayer books, their eyes downcast, the boys in tall hats and frock coats, sober of countenance, the advance guard carrying old-fashioned muskets. The chorus of their song announced that "no Bolshevists came over in the Mayflower to desolate the land."

As soon as each class entered and took its seat its yell leaders got busy. Guy Bennett and Clayton Carr were the very efficient captains in this exercise for the Seniors, "Hefty" Herman led the Juniors, Billy Kelly and James Gonzales the Freshmen, while the Sophomores had the novelty of two girl leaders —Virginia Huntley and Bettie Warner, but they had able lieutenants among the boys.

BUSINESS EXPANSION

YAGER & POPE HAVE COMPLETED CHANGES IN STORE

T. E. Yager, who has been proprietor of the confectionery store at 111 South Brand boulevard for several years, and J. A. Pope, who became associated with him about a year ago, have seen their business expand to such proportions that they were unable to handle it with the accommodations at their disposal.

Accordingly they began, about two months ago, to enlarge, remodel and redecorate their quarters and have just completed the work. A new kitchen was built, the dining room extended several feet to the rear, an up-to-date soda fountain installed, the walls redecorated very artistically including a hand-painted frieze of out-of-door scenes that is most attractive. Harmonious lighting fixtures were installed, including softly-shaded lights in each booth. New furniture was added and other changes made. An attractive feature is the semi-circular booths on both sides of the room in the rear.

This enterprise on the part of Messrs. Yager and Pope is to be highly commended for they have a place that is a credit to the city. The cool, softly lighted, attractive interior of the store will invite the hungry and thirsty and the changes will be much appreciated by the regular patrons. The geniality of the proprietors is not the least of the features that make this place popular.

HIGH SCHOOL BONDS

PROPOSAL LACKS CLARITY AND MERITS DEFEAT, SAYS MR. CHANDLER

There is one matter in connection with our High School problem about which there is no dispute—additional classroom facilities must be provided at the earliest possible moment—and if the school board were submitting to the voters a bond issue limited in amount to a sum sufficient to provide the necessary facilities pending the change of the High School location, there would be no controversy over the matter. But the proposed issue far exceeds the amount required for pressing needs. The board has stated that if the straw vote favors the purchase of a new site no expenditure upon the present site will be made in excess of present needs, but no definite maximum is fixed and the voters do not know what amount the board has in mind. The proposed expenditure depends upon the opinion of the board as to what is necessary and when the matter becomes a matter of opinion it has reached a realm of uncertainty into which the voters should not be expected to venture. A proposed bond issue for present relief only would have met the essential requirement of certainty as to the amount and purpose of the board's expenditures, to which the voters who pay the bills are entitled, and would have assured to the students and faculty the needed additional facilities before the opening of the next school year. The all-important question of present relief would not have been involved with any other.

The cost of a school bond election is small and issues thereat should not be confused. A clear expression of public opinion should be obtained on every phase of this school matter. If the voters still favor the purchase of a new site, the proposed issue is much too large. If the voters do not favor the purchase of a new site and also do not favor the purchase of the block adjoining the present site, which involves the closing of Louise street, the proposed issue is still too large. If the voters favor the retention of the present site, the acquisition of the adjoining block (involving condemnation proceedings of uncertain duration and expense) and a further extension of the adopted style of architecture and grouping of buildings, the proposed issue is much too small.

The present proposal lacks clarity and merits defeat. The submission of the matter in its present form only postpones relief from the present congested condition of the High School plant. Let us have an election for the raising only of the necessary funds, to be expended immediately, for the needed classrooms, without involving ourselves in proceedings for the condemnation of improved property or the closing of city streets.

PASADENA DEALER HAS THREE CARLOADS READY FOR DELIVERY

A. J. Mayer, of 161 West Colorado street, Pasadena, temporarily located with Midway Battery Service Company pending the completion of their new home, next to the Elks' Club, which is directly across the street from where the new El Carmeltia Hotel will be erected, now has seven different models of Oldsmobile cars and trucks on display. Until an Agency is established here in Glendale, he has been authorized to sell here. He has eleven cars for immediate delivery. Everyone knows that all automobile plants have been shut down for three weeks, making the car shortage situation even more acute. The three carloads which Mr. Mayer has just received have been on the road from Lansing, Mich., for 10 weeks. It will be worth your while to go over and look these beautiful models over.

MORELAND TRUCKS

THIS POPULAR, EVERY-PURPOSE TRUCK HAS GREAT FUTURE

In speaking of the Moreland trucks whose factory is just outside of Glendale's gates, Messrs. Packer and White, of the Packer & White Auto Co., who are distributors of this truck for Glendale, San Fernando Valley, and a large section of the northern part of Los Angeles county, are very enthusiastic about the future of this truck.

They say the growth of the Moreland business has been phenomenal although it has been a healthy growth. The truck was planned right, a foundation for an enduring structure was laid before the first Moreland truck was made. With such preparations for its advent, it was bound to make a steady growth. The Moreland was made to meet western needs, consequently to meet truck needs everywhere for there are no conditions of temperature or roads anywhere that will not be encountered somewhere in the west.

The order for the first Moreland distillate truck was placed in September, 1911. Since that time the prestige of the truck has grown steadily. Moreland stands for quality in a truck and the reputation for efficiency, endurance, dependability and economy which this truck has justly earned is becoming more widespread every day. Messrs. Packer and White are doing their part to make Moreland efficiency known throughout this territory.

VALUE OF TUBES

THEIR PURPOSE TO HOLD AIR AND KEEP ON HOLDING IT

"It is surprising how many motorists pay strict attention to their casings and yet fail to give the tube proper credit for its part in tire performance," is the observation of J. K. Hough, Manager Automobile Tire Department, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company of California, Los Angeles, California.

"Many car drivers," he says, "are careful to use only the best of casings, and yet expect them to deliver good service with just any kind of tube. They regard a tube as 'just a tube' and let it go at that. Many of them could afford to throw away the tubes they are now using and replace them with a quality product. They would save money in the end.

"The sole purpose of a tube is to hold air and keep on holding air, and a tube that will do this must be scientifically made, involving expert and costly construction.

"A favorite method of impressing car owners with the strength of tubes has been to stretch them between two automobiles moving in opposite directions, stretching them to many times their own length. But this really demonstrates nothing in the way of actual service. An equal sized band of slingshot rubber would probably stretch much farther—but it would hardly serve for tube purposes.

"Another method has been to suspend heavy weights from tubes to show their lifting qualities. But in actual service all a tube must do is to hold air permanently. It must have elasticity but must also be constructed to withstand heat generated in the casing, so that it will not vulcanize to the inside of the casing.

"There is really no more logic in using a poor tube in a high grade casing than there is in equipping a good automobile with a poor motor.

"To construct good tubes the best grade of rubber is calendered into thin sheets and these sheets built into a tube—layer on layer—until the desired thickness is attained. Then these separate layers of rubber are vulcanized into one integral mass. This is the method used in building tubes in the Goodyear factory. And before they leave the factory to begin their careers of service they are subjected to a very rigid 24-hour air test.

"Weight and toughness to a certain degree must enter into tube construction, but not for the sole purpose of being heavy and tough. Motorists should keep this strictly in mind when replenishing tubes, remembering that whatever points of advantage a tube may possess, its value inside the casing lies in its ability to hold air and keep on holding it."

The students and faculty that have taken an oath to "wear my clothes until they fall off" will discover probably that the proprieties will require some reservations to the letter of the pledge.

All Roads

Before the first Moreland truck was built, every obstacle that might be met by any truck on any road was met in the minds of the men who planned this truck, and overcome in design, material and careful workmanship.

The Moreland is a truck of assured dependability. It balks at neither desert sands, mountain grades or rough roads of any kind. It is not affected by extremes of temperature.

The Moreland is a truck of economy because the Moreland gasifier makes possible the burning of low-grade fuel.

DETERMINING STARTING BATTERY VALUES

"How in the world can I tell which is the best battery? They all look alike and each manufacturer claims his was the best. So what's a fellow to do?"

This is the universal complaint of motorists faced with the necessity of buying a new battery and sums up a problem which is as vital as it is perplexing.

Of course, the average car owner cannot be expected to analyze the technical reasons advanced in support of the claims of any particular battery, any more than he can judge of a watch's time-keeping ability by looking at the works. But if he follows the same plan in selecting a storage battery that he uses in buying a watch, he will obtain equally satisfactory results.

For in buying a watch or a storage battery, the only safe guide is the reputation of the maker and the experience of others who have used it. And in this respect it is well to bear in mind that the "Exide" Starting and Lighting Battery is made by the world's largest maker of storage batteries for every purpose. The single fact that the "Exide" Battery is the embodiment of more than 32 years' manufacturing experience is sufficient to guarantee that this battery is as good as human skill and unlimited resources can make it.

But added to this is the experience of thousands of motorists in all parts of the country, who are unanimous in declaring that "Exide" Batteries give consistently satisfactory service under all conditions. They have learned that they can always depend on the "Exide," that it stands up under the gaff of hard, everyday usage and goes right on delivering excess power under the most trying weather conditions. They also have learned that "Exide" compact construction gives this battery considerably more power than other batteries of equal size and weight.

There is another part to be considered in buying a storage battery—the amount and kind of service offered by the manufacturer. "Exide" Service occupies a strong position in the automobile industry. It is easily accessible and the "Exide" Service Station is in charge of battery experts trained to care for and repair any make of starting and lighting battery. This service is thorough, impartial and is instantly available to every motorist, no matter what make of battery he uses.

THE GOOD OLD BUICK

MR. TANNER SAYS POPULARITY OF CAR HAS NOT WANED WITH THE YEARS

When asked how he accounted for the fact that the Buick still holds its own although scores of cars of different makes have come out since the first Buick was built, W. A. Tanner of the Tanner-Taylor Company, local Buick agents, said this car retains the public favor because of superior points of construction which won it a reputation years ago.

Buying a car is the occasion for serious thought on the part of most people. They don't want to take any chances. They want a car that will answer all their needs. They are careful about putting their money into a car that hasn't been thoroughly proved. That is why the Buick waiting list is so large, why so many would rather wait for a Buick than take some other car, Mr. Tanner says.

In a bid for the growing overall trade a New York store has cut men's suits from $75 to $37.50. And no claim is made that the goods are being sold below cost yet. Draw your own conclusion.

CROW-ELKHART

SOLVES PROBLEM OF MOTOR SERVICE AT REASONABLE COST

"My conception of a problem is something difficult to solve, which is probably something like the way Webster put it in the big book," said Mr. Stansbury, of the Stansbury Motor Company, local agent for the Crow-Elkhart, "but Crow-Elkhart has already solved the motor problem."

"Ability to perform, backed by standard parts of proven merit, combined with economy in the use of low-grade fuel and beauty of body design equal the Crow-Elkhart," Mr. Stansbury says. He further states that he can convince anyone of the durability, comfort, economy, power, performance and other pleasing features of this car by a demonstration. "All these features are combined in a car that sells for $1595 delivered. To see is to believe; to ride is to realize; to own is to be convinced," says Mr. Stansbury.

A Voice From the Orient

Julius Caesar Nayphe Comes to Chautauqua With Spectacular Lecture-Entertainment

Julius Caesar Nayphe, a young Athenian of noble birth, is coming to Chautauqua on the opening night with a lecture-entertainment unlike anything you have ever heard.

Born in Athens, educated in Palestine, a graduate of the University of Bagdad, Mesopotamia, a university student in England and later of our own Harvard, this young Athenian has created a furore of enthusiasm wherever he has appeared. He brings with him the gorgeaus costumes of the Armenians, Syrians and peoples of the near East, making his lecture-entertainment a spectacular pageant of the Orient. He tells of the Holy Land, which he knows so well, of the social customs, of the religion and of the betrothal and marriage customs.

Personals

Mrs. Anna P. Stafford has taken out a permit for the erection of a 5-room residence at 422 Burchett, to cost $3500.

Mrs. Mabel Tripp of Mojave is the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. E. Kuehny of 1452 East California avenue. She expects to be here about a week.

M. G. Musser, wife and two daughters moved Wednesday into the home they recently purchased of Mrs. Sarah Hoopes, at 600 W. Colorado.

O. B. Roberts of 118 N. Everett has been confined to his bed for several days with very painful boils on his back and Mrs. Roberts is suffering from an affliction that prevents her from lying down. Their son has been afflicted with boils, also, and they have had a very serious time of it.

Fred Freitag seems to be gradually moving Los Angeles into Glendale and if it keeps up we may annex the big city later on. Early in the week he began moving a five-room house from near Lincoln Park to his lot at 1231 East Broadway. Now he is engaged in moving a 10x12 garage building from East Sixteenth St. to the rear of the same lot.

The Glendale Welding & Brazing Company, of which L. H. Bess is the proprietor, has moved from E. Wilson Ave. to 217 East Broadway where they are nicely located with the Service Garage & Ignition Works. Mr. Bess says he can give his patrons even better service here than at the old location and thinks his patrons will appreciate the more convenient location. His phone number is 2000-W.

Miss Winifred Bacon of 1335 South San Fernando Road has been seriously ill of typhoid fever for about two weeeks. Her friends hope the crisis has been passed and that she will soon give definite evidence of recuperation. They do not know how she contracted the disease but think it must have been in Los Angeles where she has been employed and attending night school at L. A. Polytechnic.

Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel of 308 North Orange street, who went to Santa Barbara to attend the encampment of the Department of Nevada and California, was taken sick and came home without attending a session. Her indisposition did not prove to be serious and she has been cheered by a telegram advising her of her election to the chaplainship of the W. R. C. for the Department. Other delegates are expected home today.

J. C. Barnett, who recently purchased the building 716-718 South Brand Blvd., formerly known as the Taylor flats, but now known as the Brandale apartments, is making extensive improvements in the same, installing up-to-date wallbeds and electric fixtures, and glassing in the sleeping porch, besides numerous other improvements. The decorating is in charge of Mr. Hurd, and when the work is completed, this will be one of the most pleasant apartments in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sinclair of 1226 East Lexington Drive are entertaining an old friend from Chicago. Mrs. Thos. Clancey, who has been touring the west and has taken in Colorado scenic points and the Grand Canyon. This is her first visit to Southern California and she is very much delighted with it, especially the flowers which make a great appeal as Chicago was having a cold, dreary spring when she left it. The Sinclairs are making an effort to show her a great deal of our pleasant country while here and are about to give her an auto trip to Riverside.

GALLI CURCI CONCERT

A number of Glendale ladies enjoyed the wonderful concert of Galli-Curci Friday afternoon. Mrs. E. W. Kinney and her daughter, Mrs. Leighton, of West Elk avenue, joined a party of friends and relatives at a luncheon given at the Roma and from there went to the concert. Another group included Mrs. W. W. Ramsay, Mrs. Spencer Robinson and Mrs. W. B. Crocker of this city. Mrs. Ramsay reports the audience was so vast it was hard to discover familiar faces. It was a case of "not being able to see the forest for the trees." She describes the event as a wonderful concert in which the great singer was very gracious in responding to the demands of her audience for encores.

DEATH OF MRS. BESSIE REESOR

Mrs. Bessie Reesor, wife of W. Howard Reesor, passed away at her late residence in L. A., May 6, 1920, at 2:30 p. m. Deceased leaves a husband, a daughter and three sisters, Mrs. Steve Delgardo, of 316 E. Lomita, Glendale; Miss Emma Rowntree and Mrs. Norman Arnott of Toronto, Canada, who came from Canada to be with their mother in her recent illness. Funeral services will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers today, May 8th, at 3:30 p. m., with interment at Forest Lawn, I. G. Scovern Co., Directors.

Judge Bazille

of Minnesota County (Minneapolis and St. Paul) says: "If any life insurance prospect could attend the proceedings in the Probate Court for a short period, I am convinced that he shortly would be converted to the fact that life insurance, especially that payable in installments, is one of the greatest assets that can be left for the benefit of his family, as our records show that thousands of cases of minors and orphans are being educated solely from the proceeds of life insurance policies. From my experience I maintain that the head of the household, or men contemplating such responsibility, who can pass an examination and fails to adequately provide his family with life insurance, is not a worthy husband or son."

Does this have any lesson for you?

A WORLD REBUILT

By the GOLDEN RULE
not by the rule of Gold

Thirty denominations of the Church are uniting in a simultaneous campaign.

They are uniting because the task before the Church is too great for any one denomination; because there must be no duplication of effort; no waste.

These churches know that the world needs many things; but it needs Faith most of all.

They know that there can be no final solution of our economic problems that is not a spiritual solution, based on the teachings of Jesus Christ and His Golden Rule.

They have had the courage to survey the whole task, and to ask for a budget large enough to sustain (1) the work abroad, (2) the work at home including the church's part in the huge task of Americanization, (3) the colleges and (4) hospitals supported by the churches, (5) the religious training of the young, and to provide (6) a living wage for the Church's ministers.

The budget is large in the aggregate; yet if each person who loves America would increase his contribution by only a few dollars the whole amount would be easily subscribed.

We face the task of rebuilding the world. Let the cornerstone be a strong and vital church in every American community; and the measuring rod by which the builders build must be the Golden Rule.

Arthur G. Lindley is heading the Campaign in Glendale. Each church is supplying workers and in the next few days every citizen of Glendale will be given the opportunity of contributing to this great movement.

Adv. THE CHURCHES OF GLENDALE.

Rev. C. A. Cole was in Long Beach Thursday and Friday attending the Los Angeles County Sunday School convention. He was on the program three times in those two days for addresses and expositions of different phases of Sunday School work.

"The Red Peril" was an appeal to America to awake and not permit the torch of liberty lighted by our forefathers who came over in the Mayflower to be extinguished by lawless Bolshevists whose tyranny as exemplified in the rule of Lenine and Trotzky over Russia exceeds that of the Romanoffs or the Hohenzollerns.

Miss Earl's treatment of her theme, "Theodore Roosevelt," was refreshingly original and appealing, and her delivery was excellent though she was compelled to hesitate once or twice to recover the thread of her argument.

The two Hoover addresses followed similar lines, reviewing Hoover's orphaned childhood, his youthful ambition and push which made him strike out for himself at fourteen and struggle for an education to such good purpose that at seventeen he was applying for entrance to Stanford. His work as engineer and as a world figure in the great war was traced and the many good qualities that fit him to fill the presidential chair. The oration of Jenkins was the more polished of the two and was delivered with more deliberation and therefore better effect. When after long circumlocution in which he tantalized the expectant students, Judge M. Howard Fagan, pastor of the Wilshire Boulevard Christian Church, finally announced that the $20 gold piece would go to Jenkins, a mighty shout of approval nearly rent the roof. The judge tried to be the first to congratulate the victor but stalwart Seniors were too quick for him. Leaping upon the platform they raised Jenkins to their shoulders and carried him in triumph to receive the congratulations of his friends.

The announcement of the booth award was made by Mrs. Estelle Lawton Lindsey, of Los Angeles, who expressed the embarrassment of the judges in being unable to give awards to all contestants. "We liked," she said, "the yell and song of the Freshmen, we liked the booth of the Seniors, we were charmed with the originality of the parade of the Sophomores, but we liked the booth of the Juniors best." (Tremendous cheering on the part of the Juniors). When the noise had sufficiently subsided for her to continue she explained that the use of the picturesque Mayflower and the ideal it represents in opposition to "the red peril," and the grouping of the black and white costumes as a foil to the red and all it symbolizes, had appealed to the three judges and made them a unit on the award. Associated with Mrs. Lindsey were Douglas Donald of the Otis Art Institute, and Miss Nora Bloms of the Art Department of U. S. C., Southern Branch.

Judges of delivery associated with Rev. Fagan, were Everett Mattoon, Deputy City Attorney of Los Angeles, and Edith Everett, debating coach of Hollywood High.

Philip Wernette, who was the winner in the contest last year, was the presiding officer and introduced the speakers, each of whom was presented with a very beautiful basket of flowers at the close of his or her oration.

The general preliminary announcement was made by Prof. Root, head of the debating department, who stated that this was the eleventh of the oratorical contests inaugurated by Professor Howe in 1910, and that the winners had been: Hazel Everett, Dwight Stephenson, Harold Story, James Boring, Alena McGee, James Bennett, Ethel West, Frank Balthis, Clarence Ralston, and Philip Wernette. He added that the winner of this contest would represent the school three weeks hence at the All Southern California League meet in Los Angeles.

While there was necessarily disappointment on the part of champions and classes who had failed to win, it was conceded to be a worthy representation in each case, of which there was no occasion to feel ashamed, and on the whole there was little grumbling over the awards.

6 Per cent Gen. & Ref. Mortgage Bonds due 1944

We have obtained these bonds on a basis that will allow us to offer them at a price that will yield a handsome income to the investor. These bonds are tax free. Call and get price and information concerning these bonds before you are too late.

Securities of hydro-electric companies of California are absolutely safe, secure, and income yielding. The hydro-electric resources of California have just been scratched. Large factories and manufacturers are locating in Southern California in increasing numbers every day because of the inexhaustible supply of electric power. The Southern California Edison Company is continually increasing their producing units with a view of not only supplying manufacturers in California but of eventually supplying eastern factories.

The Company operates in and supplies an area of over 55,000 square miles in Southern California and the San Joaquin Valley, containing 150 cities and a population of over 1,000,000.

We strongly recommend these bonds as a safe and good income yielding investment.

VALVE-IN-HEAD SIXES Buick EXCLUSIVELY MOTOR CARS

The first Buick motor car wasn't built yesterday. The Buick held a prominent place in the motor-car world years ago and it continues to hold its own although the motor-car field offers an increasingly-wide selection for motor-car purchasers.

The superior quality, the economy and the dependability of the Buick were proved so long ago that there is no longer any question about the merit of the car.

Preference for the Buick becomes more pronounced each season because of this well-deserved reputation which the car has won, and for this reason the Buick factory is constantly taxed beyond its limit.

The demand for the Buick exceeds the supply but thousands are contented to await their turn in Buick deliveries because they know they are putting their money on a sure thing —there is no gamble in buying a Buick.

TRACTOR OUTPUT

FORDSON HITS HIGHEST PRODUCTION RECORD—HENRY FORD STARTER ON TRACTOR

On February 19th at 9 a. m. Fordson Tractor Number 100,000 left the assembly line in the Fordson plant at Dearborn, Michigan, slightly less than two and one-half years after number one was completed. And here again has Henry Ford set a new high record in the manufacture of farm tractors via the quantity production route.

Although the Ford interests are very recent entrants in the ranks of the tractor manufacturers, yet Henry Ford really built a tractor—of the steam type—before he started work on his first gas car. And incidentally, that tractor and the first car, are still in very good running condition and Mr. Ford occasionally demonstrates both to visitors at his farm in Dearborn.

Some fifteen years ago Mr. Ford began work on what has come to be the Fordson. This tractor was really a Ford car equipped with special wheels and included, of course, some mechanical changes. By 1908 he had a workable tractor; it plowed, harrowed, and did much other work on the farm. Then ensued nine more years of experimental work before the first tractor was put on the market.

Fordson tractors are now being assembled at the rate of 350 daily at Dearborn, 100 at the St. Louis assembling plant, and it is estimated that within a short time the Des Moines branch will be in operation. There is also an assembling plant in Cork, Ireland.

MAXWELL POPULARITY

AGILITY OF THIS CAR APPEALS TO BUYERS, SAYS MR. SUTHERLAND

B. G. Sutherland, Maxwell distributor for this section in speaking of the popularity of the car which he represents says the light weight of the Maxwell combined with an endurance and performance that could be expected only in a heavy car is its strong point and explains why the 100,000 cars that will represent the factory output this year cannot nearly supply the demand. "As a usual thing," said Mr. Sutherland, "when lightness is sought in a car, quality is sacrificed. This is not the case with the Maxwell."

"The steel used in the Post-War Maxwell is the explanation," he said. "'Such rare and high-quality steels are used in the construction of the car that lightness is achieved with no loss of efficiency."

See Their Uniform Mileage Through Your Meter's Eye

That Long-Distance Service Every Miller Gives

We pay our respects to the motor car's meter—it is proving that, tire after tire, Miller casings, under like conditions, wear alike. That, tire after tire, they are long-distance runners.

This Miller feat of producing Uniform Tires is much discussed. Of course it requires the choicest rubber and fabric. But more than that, the workers must be trained to build alike.

That is what the Miller factory has accomplished. And that is why we feature Miller Tires. By giving you exceptional mileage, we know we can earn your trade.

Reasonable prices, fair charges and quick service go with everything we sell.

100,000 Maxwells can't supply the demand

A car that is light (due to the rare steels used in its construction) therefore a car that is agile and gets over the ground quickly—a car with the speed, endurance and efficiency of a heavy, high priced car.

——This is the Maxwell and these are the features that have made this car so popular.

A vehicle weighing but 1960 pounds made to carry 1000 pounds human weight 100,000 miles or more, to carry at a low cost and to carry its five passengers in comfort.

——This is the Maxwell and this is a feature of its construction that appeals to the pocket-book.

The car that gives you the greatest tire and gas mileage because of its light weight, the car in which high engine efficiency has been developed.

——This is the Maxwell, the car that 140,000 people want and only 100,000 can have this year.

rooms. This building could be constructed directly to the south of the main building connected, if need be, by a covered bridge.

All these things are possible and practical and can be had at once if the trustees and faculty will enter into the spirit of economy and common sense and open their eyes to the vision of the future.

As to what is to be done with the present plant. This is a question which time and circumstances have much to do with. There are several possibilities. Three or four years from now the City of Glendale will either be glad to take it over for civic purposes or private interests will come to the front. In the latter case Maryland could be reopened with no doubtful results.

I have advanced the above ideas for what they are worth and trust they may clear away the doubts that may linger in some minds as to whether or not they should vote against the bonds and the retention of the present site.

Be it understood that there is no intention to make any immediate change of location, but rather to do nothing to make such change more difficult and expensive when the time does arrive.

Should we not vote "No" on both ballots?

You'll Get Only What You Pay For

"....The shortage of teachers in Los Angeles County was so acute this whole year that it has been impossible to keep all schools open full time and the loss of time ranged from one week to as much as four months.

"....there will be more schools which will not open for the same reason, NEXT YEAR.

"....only better pay, to attract teachers, will insure an education for your child.

"....you taxpayers, only by adding to your county school rate, will place all the schools in our county on a sound financial basis.

"....you will guarantee good schools, decently paid teachers, and children taught the great American principle of the square deal, by those who get one."

of the situation that will exist this fall, until permanent buildings could be completed. The permanent use of the block for gymnasiums and athletic grounds could wait until this was accomplished. The law of eminent domain permits us to take possession of this property and use it at once without waiting for the trial of the case, if arrangements could not be made with the owners for immediate possession.

On the other hand, if the vote is in favor of a new site, it is our intention to call another election for the selection of a site as soon as this can be done, and in the meantime to make some temporary arrangements to take care of the classes next fall. This might require the construction of bungalows similar to those lately built by the grammar school district. We would also have to provide by additions to, or alterations of, the present buildings for the growth of the school for the next four or five years, or until a new plant could be erected on the new site. Under these circumstances it would not be good business to expend more money on the present site than is absolutely necessary, and we would not do so. There would undoubtedly be a considerable surplus left of the proposed bond issue after making the necessary improvements and buying the new site, and this would not be expended until the time arrived for improvement of the new site. We are advised by the County Counsel that a High School bond issue can be sold by installments, and it is our intention, if the change of site carries and the bonds are voted, to ask the Supervisors to sell only so much of the bond issue as is necessary for the purpose of making the improvements needed now.

Some citizens of the district suggested to us that this bond issue should be for only enough to erect some bungalow classrooms, and now seem to be surprised that we did not adopt their suggestion. It is true, we consulted them on the subject, but the responsibility of acting was upon us as a board, and their suggestion did not commend itself to our judgment. It would have left the site question undetermined, and have resulted in the erection on the present grounds of unsightly temporary buildings which would not be needed if the present site were retained. It would also have required still another bond election to vote additional bonds for the new site or additions to the present site, whichever was determined on. By the propositions now submitted to you the whole matter, except location of new site, can be determined at one election. We believe also that in fairness to the owners of the block lying east of the high school a decision whether that is to be taken for the school should be made as soon as can be, for some of them have building plans which are awaiting a determination of the matter.

We are also of the opinion that the best interests of the district will be served by retaining the present site. It is very centrally located, near all the car lines, and within walking distance of the homes of most of the pupils. If any of the other sites which have been most suggested is chosen those pupils who reside in the south and west parts of Glendale will have much farther to go, and will probably be put to the added expense of paying carfare every day. We do not believe the character of business that is likely to grow up in the vicinity will seriously interfere with the school, and we do not see how any one can guarantee that if a move is made undesirable conditions will not grow up around the new site. Neither does it appear likely to us that the growth of business in the near future will be around the high school. The tendency is not now in that direction, and we were told in the last bond campaign that the presence of the high school on a street would interfere with the growth of business there.

Abandonment of the present site now would of necessity entail a considerable loss to the district. The present buildings cost about $125,000 and would now cost probably $250,000. They were planned for school purposes and could not be used for anything else unless practically rebuilt. If the site is unfit for a school, of course they cannot be sold for that purpose, and besides, the grammar school district, which would be the only possible purchaser, already has a site just across the street. These buildings, and the additions which we would have to make to them, would be almost a total loss in case of sale of the property.

We have now an additional bonding capacity of $445,000. During the previous campaign the advocates of a new site stated that it would take $150,000 to buy a new site and provide accommodations for the school until the new school could be built. Using this amount of bonds would leave $295,000 available for the new plant, the cost of which is undetermined, but at present prices would be at least $600,000, if it were at all complete and adequate. There would be a shortage of $305,000 to be provided for by sale of the present site, by increase of bonding capacity, or by reduction in the price of building. We have found no one who professes to know when, if ever, the price of building will go down, or who will promise that it will happen in four or five years. The present site would not bring more than $150,000, in our opinion, if sold now, and the remaining part of the cost of new buildings would have to be taken care of by an increase in bonding capacity, which under present conditions would mean an increase of $3,000,000 in the assessed valuation of the district. It may be that all of these things would work out to the advantage of the district, but it does not appear to us to be good business to take quite so many chances of getting in a position where we could not take care of our needs.

Respectfully submitted,
HIGH SCHOOL BOARD.
